Summary of Findings

- During the last week of August, the national average traffic has reached to 76% of the normal traffic.
- Some markets (e.g. Calgary and Toronto) have caught up and. They have returned to at least 70% of the normal traffic.
- Though the Transit APP Usage (it is used to mimic transit “traffic”) remains low, it has not dropped drastically in July and August across all markets. It shows a consistent pace.
- Other data sources (Apple and Google) indicate activities, such as driving, recreation, shopping at grocery stores and pharmacies have returned to the normal traffic at a steady pace.

Key Observations – Week over Week

In the week of August 24th, the traffic across Canada continuing to increase conservatively with the national average now at 76%.
